

national director carbon & sustainability

- Join one of the world top 5 environmental consultancies
- Manage the Australian sustainability operations

This organisation specialises in carbon and energy strategy, development and planning, corporate strategy, land restoration and risk management and employs over 10,000 staff worldwide. They are one of the world's largest and most dynamic environmental consultancies.

Leading a team of consultants you will advise your clients on environmental, social and governance (ESG) risks. You will work on environmental liability transfer, zero carbon projects and management plans and generally advising clients in the development of carbon and sustainability-focused products and services.

You have a strong work experience in environmental/sustainability consulting and ideally corporate social responsibility experience. You have managed staff in the energy, carbon, sustainability sectors and are familiar with local regulations.

Annual Salary Package will be commensurate to profile and experience: up to $250K + super + company bonus.
