

sales director – general manager elect

- Establish an International Wind Business
- Role located in Sydney, Melbourne or Wellington
- A Rare Opportunity

A large international wind energy organisation is establishing an office in Australia/New Zealand. Your role is to grow the business then build a small team, then more again.

You are from the wind energy industry, have business development skills and have the ability to head the company as it grows. You will negotiate tenders and contract terms and build an after sales service function.

You are Degree qualified in an engineering discipline; ideally with a commercial post graduate qualification or a combined engineering and commercial degree. You have experience within the wind turbine sales environment with a network of contacts in Australia, New Zealand and globally.

The position could be in either Sydney, Melbourne or Wellington. Call Michael Green or Trevor Jones in Auckland (531 5105) if you would like to discuss or submit your resume.
